Journalism Awards for Lung Cancer Reporting

The Tempus Journalism Awards, launched earlier this year by the Global Lung Cancer Coalition (GLCC), is the first global initiative to recognise excellence in lung cancer reporting.

There are still two months remaining before judging begins – so please continue to send in your submissions. Remember, entries are invited from journalists whose features, commentaries or programmes on lung cancer have been published or broadcast between 1 September 2005 and 1 September 2006.

Entries must be received by 28 September to be considered.

Award categories are:

- Best Medical Article
- Best Consumer Article
- Best Broadcast Report

The winner of each award category will be announced during Lung Cancer Awareness Month 2006 (November) and receive a €7000 research grant towards further reporting of the disease, as well as global recognition of their outstanding excellence in journalism.
